The University Hospital of Munich is one of the largest and most efficient university hospitals in Germany and Europe. 47 specialist clinics, departments and institutes with excellent research and teaching enable patient care at the highest medical level. Around 10,000 employees support this care.

The working group „Translational Cancer Immunology“ at the Gene Center of the LMU Munich (www.subklewe.genzentrum.lmu.de) is seeking as soon as possible, initially limited for 1 year, a

PostDoc (m/f/d)
(biochemistry, biology, biomedicine, human medicine or similar)

For a collaborative research project with a large industrial partner.

Your area of responsibility:
- Supervision and independent experimental implementation of a research project in the area of checkpoint inhibition and GVHD after allogeneic bone marrow transplantation
- Design of experiments & integration into existing research activities
- Presentation of research results at national and international congresses
- Support in the supervision/coordination of various research
- Professional guidance and close cooperation between MTAs and doctoral students

Our requests:
- PhD in the field of life science
- Interest in translational research
- Commitment and a self-directed way of working
- Strong immunological background
- Team player with well-developed interpersonal abilities
- Excellent communication skills in English
- Solid practical experience in multicolor flow cytometry, multiplex-assays (e.g. Luminex), RNA sequencing and T cell biology

Our offer:
Working in an excellent young team with clinically oriented research in the field of immunotherapy.

Handicapped candidates with equal qualifications will be given preference. Unfortunately, introduction costs cannot be refunded. For further information please contact Prof. Dr. med. Marion Subklewe: subklewe@genzentrum.lmu.de or Dr. med. Friederike Hildebrand: hildebrand@genzentrum.lmu.de.

Please send your application (preferably by email) to:
subklewe@genzentrum.lmu.de
Klinikum der Universität München
Translational Cancer Immunology (AG Subklewe)
Frau Prof. Dr. med. M. Subklewe
Feodor-Lynen-Str. 25
81377 München

When sending your application by email, please note that your data is not encrypted during this transmission process and could possibly be read or falsified by unauthorized persons. You are welcome to send us your documents by post.